

My New World After My Hand Of Wrath And Judgment, Amen Forever!

"My son, I Am smoking hot angry right now. My people refuse to obey Me. They want their own way, not Mine. They refuse to obey Me, their God. The same goes for the sinners, refusing to repent, preferring their life of sin before Me. That I will judge. They will die in the pandemic. Very few obey Me. Did I not say the laborers are few, My son? Few obey Me. Those I will save. Therest want their own ways. Those will go to Hell, even the Lake of Fire forever, My son. Few will be saved. The world will be an entirely different place when the pandemic is done. Most will be eliminated, even the Elite who started it all. I will save who I will save. Most will be eliminated by My Hand of Wrath. The world will start over with who is left. Most will be Christians. The sinners will be long gone, destroyed by My Hand of Punishment. Few will be left to obey Me. I will start over with whoever is left in the Earth. They will obey Me to start a new civilization where righteousness reigns. My will will be done. Count on it! My pandemic will eliminate all evildoers of sin, and wicked people will be gone forever, burning in Hell forever. Oh what a righteous place it will be where My people reign and the wicked are gone! It is like that in My Heaven above, where righteousness reigns eternally in the Presence of My Father. There no enemy enters in, no wicked performs their evil work, where all are safe from sin forever, My son. Count on it! Great is My Majesty, and I reign forever. Great is the LORD, Amen! I Am the Great Amen! Your LORD has spoken! Amen and amen forever!"
